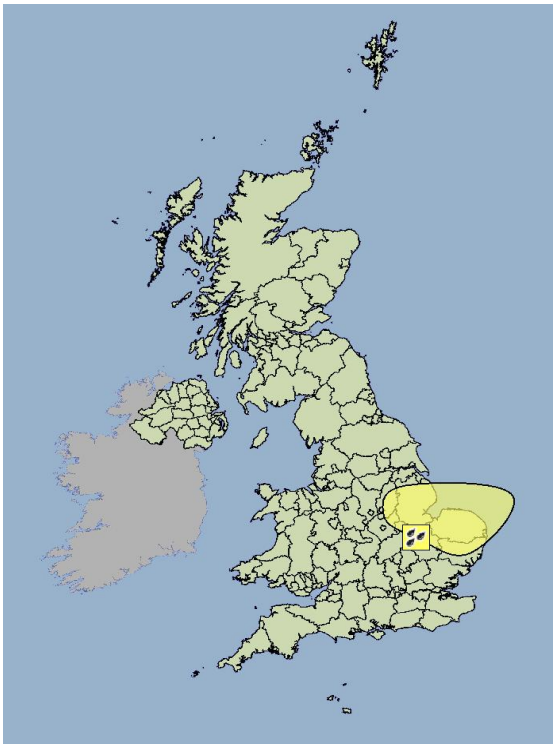
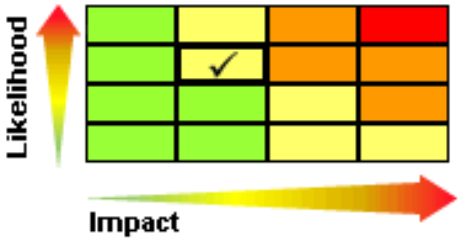
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
Some further pulses of very heavy rain will run west across Lincolnshire and surrounding areas in the next few hours. Whilst the entire area will see rain, the heaviest bursts are moving through fairly quickly with only low levels of disruption now expected.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 06:50 on Wed, 28th Jun 2017 until 10:00 on Wed, 28th Jun 2017

Further heavy rain is expected during Wednesday morning.

Some localised flooding is possible along with difficult driving conditions and some transport disruption.

This is an update to shrink the warning area. This is also now a medium likelihood of low impacts given the faster moving nature of the heaviest elements.
